A Night of Song

Saturday, April 10th at 7:00 pm

Central's own Julianne and Jamie Arvizu have invited their friends Kyle and Adam Cartwright from the Park Ridge Chorale and of the St. Luke's Bottle Band fame, to join them for some musical fun! You'll enjoy Broadway favorites, old standards, solos, duets and group numbers during this intimate, casual evening of song. Cornell's Mark Ferraguto on piano.

Second City Brass

Saturday, May 1st at 7:00 pm

Second City Brass was founded in 2008 to promote the excitement and enjoyment of live brass music from classical to blues. These five talented musicians will be sure to delight you with their bright sound and beautiful tone as they perform a wonderful and varied repertoire.

Chicago Hellenic Choir Spring Concert

Saturday, May 15th at 7:30 pm

The Chicago Hellenic Choir, a program of the Odeion School of Music, serves as an educational and cultural resource for Hellenic communities in the Chicago metropolitan area by preserving, promoting, and celebrating the language, traditions, and religion of Greece through music. They will be featuring the works of famous contemporary Greek composers as well as traditional music from the islands of Greece. *$15 per adult, children under 5 free.

Da Corneto Opera Company

Saturday, June 12th at 7:00 pm

Da Corneto was founded in 1997 by husband-and-wife team, mezzo soprano Kelli Finn and bass Álvaro Ramírez, with the late Alfred Glasser, after he retired as Lyric Opera's director of education. Da Corneto exists to provide opportunities for talented opera singers and appreciative audiences. Their intimate concert format is the perfect showcase for beautiful music and beautiful singing.
