From Pastor Biel

Lectionary Readings for

Sunday, May 15, 2022, Fifth Sunday of Easter.

Acts 11:1-18 Psalm 148 Revelations 21:1-6 John 13:31-35

---

Central Church continues to be a place where vibrant worship and faith formation takes place.

In just a couple of weeks, on May 29th, Central Church will celebrate the Confirmation of Tim Biel III and Michael Lagowski. On that day, Kai Filip De Leon Kingston will also be baptized. Baby Kai will be initiated into the family of Christ with the adults of the congregation making his vows on his behalf. Tim and Michael have studied, and practiced their faith. They have been part of the fellowship of believers and are of an age to make those same vows for themselves before God and the church.

If you pay close attention to the vows, you will notice that you, too, take the baptismal vows each time there is a new member, confirmand or baptism. This promise highlights the marks of a disciple of Jesus: (United Methodist Hymnal p.38) "We renew our covenant faithfully to participate in the ministries of the church by our prayers, our presence, our gifts and our service and witness, that in everything God may be glorified through Jesus Christ."

On Memorial Day weekend, we honor those who gave their lives in service to freedom. Let us rejoice as we welcome Kai and Tim and Michael. Pray for their faith journeys. Surround them in love. And seek the Holy Spirit that helps us examine our own life to ensure that we "so order our lives after the example of Christ."

This Sunday, May 15th, in a spirit of unity and action, you are welcome to participate in a United Against Hate rally and walk at Jonquil Terrace Park in Niles, 7753 N. Oriole Ave. The speakers will begin at 3 pm, followed by a walk around the neighborhood where anti-Semitic flyers were recently distributed meant to cause fear and intimidation.

Let's amplify love and solidarity, church.

Blessings!

A Love Letter to the Future

Pity and Service

By Christopher Bartlett

I have to tell you, it's not always easy finding something to write about every week, or even almost every week. These love letters are often inspired by odd things, such as listening to a nine-year-old podcast from my boss at Signum University talking about the Lord of the Rings and, in particular, pity as shown by various characters of this amazing work of literature.

It caused me to reflect on a common idea among people with disabilities, among whom I am one. We often tell able-bodied folk that we do not want their pity, even if we want or need their help. I promise these two things are related. It turns out that the modern usage of pity is very different from older usages that simply referred to the experience of seeing another's suffering and being deeply and emotionally moved by that witness. The negative connotations of pitying someone, including the inevitable sense of superiority that comes along with noticing someone else in a hard place, are a modern phenomenon.

A similar thing has happened to the verb to condescend, which used to be the virtue of those with power sharing the burdens and lives of those whom they ruled. To condescend, is to leave one's hierarchical perch and take on the issues confronting those, one was meant to protect and even serve.

For us, members of Christ's ministry to the world, the notion of pity should not be foreign. We are called to consciously be aware of the suffering of people around us, in our church or out of it. Our modern American way keeps us safely distant from the emotional experience of being moved beyond resistance by the witness of someone's pain; it's much safer to retweet encouragements, sign a petition, or maybe even pony up some money in a nicely unaffected way.

To feel pity though, that is dangerously close to feeling that something must be done. And if something must be done, well then, we might be the people who have to do it. And if we are people who have to do something, then we might be hurt, or oppressed, or called out. We might become modern objects of pity for those who say to themselves, "There, but for the grace of God, go I."

So, my loves, let us pray that we find room in our hearts for the true meaning of pity. Let us pray for our eyes to be opened, our ears unstopped, our feet moved to walk in the way of Christ, alongside those who suffer, and our tongues made to sing. We might not have the authority to command miracles, but we have the help of One who does. We might be well advised not to talk about pity or condescension though, the modern ear might misunderstand. Dignity matters too.

Mini Food Pantry

We are running low on food for the Mini Food Pantry. This is an ongoing mission, so please keep on bringing non-perishable items to the office on Wednesdays between 9:30 am and 4 pm and on Friday mornings between 9:30 am and 12:30 pm. Or bring them to church on Sunday.

If everyone donated two items a week, it would keep the Pantry filled.

Below is a list of suggested items - because the Mini Food Pantry is outside, it's important to only contribute non-perishable items, such as:

- Canned goods with ring-pulls;
- Hygiene products: toothpaste/toothbrush, deodorant, soap, menstrual products, etc.
- Tuna and crackers;
- Spices; salt and pepper;
- Cooking oil;
- Sugar;
- Tea and coffee;
- Peanut Butter;
- Kids' snacks;
- Dish Soap;
